

Bug Theatre brings "High" a night of comedy on stilts

Linda Klein, Barbara Gehring and Matthew Taylor bring comedy at the Bug Theatre to new heights.

High laughs come to Bug Theatre

ACE comedy troupe bring a full night of comedy on stilts for a wacky evening of fun.

NORTH DENVER – Recently back from their first place win at the Aspen Comedy Fringe Festival, A.C.E., the Denver based comedy troupe, is taking their show to a whole new level with a night of comedy on stilts. "HIGH" will take the audience on a wild ride through all five senses with characters, music and the completely unexpected as A.C.E. presents a spontaneous and hilariously unpredictable exploration of the world of the tall.

A.C.E. was formed by commercial actors, Linda Klein, Barbara Gehring and Matthew Taylor in 1998 and quickly grabbed the attention of the HBO representative during the HBO US Comedy Arts auditions that year. Greatly encouraged by that response, A.C.E. went on to earn first place two years in a row at the Aspen Comedy Fringe Festival, wow local audiences and receive numerous accolades including Westwords Best of Denver 1999 and the coveted five-star rating from the Winnipeg Fringe Theatre Festival.

While A.C.E., recently back from their second national booking, continues to perform to capacity crowds in Denver and all over Colorado, the three have their sights set high pursuing future television appearances and live performances nationwide.

Why the name A.C.E.? American, Canadian, Englishman. Three nations, one great show.

Performances of "HIGH" will be at The Bug Theatre - 3654 Navajo on Saturday, March 25 at 8:00pm. Tickets are $15. For more information or to reserve tickets please call 303.399.6375.
